MILLIONS of dollars have been expended fruitlessly in the pursuit of Villa that might better have been expended in the pursuit of happiness.

WHILE agreeing with Mr. Brady that there has been an overproduction of motion pictures, one must candidly admit that there has been, also, an overconsumption of them.

If American munitions makers cannot manufacture heavy caliber shells, they cannot object to the government's making its own or buying them elsewhere. That is, they should not, but they do.

THAT feeble excuse made by American munitions manufacturers that they cannot get successfully make large caliber shells seems to come under the provisions of the proverb. "He excuses himself accuses himself."

TALKING MACHINE music by wireless is becoming a popular fad. It is reported that the DeForest Wireless Co. of New York entertains quite a host of people with music by wireless certain evenings of the week while in San Francisco recently a Victrola concert on the roof of the Fairmont Hotel was enjoyed by passengers aboard the steamer "City of Paris" when four miles out at sea. The transmission in this instance was by wireless telephone on the hotel and the steamer's radio equipment.

Setting a Volcano to Work.

American humorists have frequently revealed in the idea of attaching power plants to a volcano and making the distributor of the earth's peace work for man, instead of destroying him and his works. But the idea has been taken from the lists of the subjects on which the wits may sharpen themselves, and has become a fact. The Electrical World, a leading magazine, recently published facts about the harnessing of a volcano.

The place of this modern wonder is at Larderello, in central Tuscany, Italy. Prof. Luigi Luiggi of the University of Rome has made a report on the matter. It seems that numerous cracks in the ground in this region permit the escape of superheated volcanic steam. These powerful jets have been harnessed successfully to an electric power house. Already three thousand kilowatt units are in operation. One has been furnishing power since January, 1916. The second began work last April. The third has just been started. This cheap power has been a great boon to the industries of Tuscany, crippled as they were by the scarcity and high price of coal due to the war.

The scenery in our own geyser country may yet be set to work, as it has at Niagara Falls. There are many things yet to be done in the way of cheaper power.

Florida's Big Boost.

Just by way of keeping a step or two in advance, Florida can show her sister states some methods. One is the team work of Booster Clubs. Not a member would recognize a hammer or a doorknocker if it were served to him in the soup or with cheese sauce, or even chestnut dressing. But when it comes to yeast or ginger, cream and candy the Florida booster grabs it immediately. That's why four towns of that enterprising state have given women municipal suffrage. Some "pep" in people who know how lead. Women and investors take notice.

Domestics.

We've had about a thousand maids, who worked for us for wages: they cleaned the floors and window shades, and cooked, by easy stages. And ever and anon they'd quit; their time had come to marry; and Grace would wed her smiling Kit, and Jane would wed her Harry. And I felt sorrow for the groom, whenever there was a wedding; when matrimony lost its bloom, he'd find some rocky sledding. Of all the thousands and girls we've hired, not one was truly saving; economy would make them tired, and sometimes set them raving. It was the same with Beryl Maud, with Susan and with Sally; they'd roll things up into a wad, and they would throw them into an alley. They wasted succotash and steak, as good as you have tasted; they wasted pudding, pie and cake, and all that could be wasted. They wasted soap, they wasted soup and did it all with jesting, and didn't seem to care a hoop for wailing or protesting. So when they go away to wed, I weep for those they marry, for Clarence, William, Stephen, Fred, Adolphus, James and Harry. Walt Mason.

SEVEN YEARS OF SUFFERING ENDS

Tanlac Helps Man in Fight Against Health Worries.

After suffering seven years with his stomach, Clarence Flanagan, Clark and Central avenue, Cincinnati, has at last found the relief he was looking for. He found it in Tanlac.

With a "Tanlac Smile" he told his story to the Tanlac Man—

"For seven years I suffered with my stomach. My trouble began with a coated tongue, a bloated feeling after eating and now and then a little touch of heartburn.

"As time went on I felt worse. My appetite left me and then I came headachy. I could not do as much work as I used to with out getting tired. I was losing my strength.

"I took a simple medicine. I got a little relief, but soon I was worse than ever. Then I got scared.

"Often after meals I would double up with cramps. Cold sweats broke out.

"For days I fasted in hope of getting better. My bowels clogged up and needed constant dosing.

"My whole system was run down. I was cross, nervous and blue. My complexion became pasty.

"Then I started to take Tanlac. Now look," and Mr. Flanagan again called attention to his healthy, ruddy complexion.

"I have gained in weight, too," he continued. "This ought to tell you what I think of Tanlac and how sincerely and truthfully I recommend it to the people of Cincinnati.

"My health worries are all gone and I now feel better than I have felt for years."

Tanlac now may be obtained in Greenville at G. E. Countzler's drug store where it is being personally introduced and explained.

Tanlac may also be obtained at the following near by towns:

DOUGHNUTS THAT WILL KEEP

New England Recipe for Delicacy That is Popular in All Sections of the Country.

To one egg beaten slightly stir in three-quarters of a cupful sugar, a little cinnamon and nutmeg, two teaspoonfuls of the melted fat you use for frying, one teaspoonful soda in one cupful of sweet milk, two teaspoonfuls cream of tartar in sifted bread flour. Stir stiff enough to handle. I never measure my flour, but can tell when it is right in my hands on the board. Cut out all at once, using little ends for twisted doughnuts so as not to mold over.

Let stand on board half an hour to raise, and fry in hot fat. When my fat begins to smoke it is hot enough. Turn doughnuts as soon as they rise, and keep turning. I find they cook more even, with fewer holes, than when turned only once. I use also a little salt, about one-quarter teaspoonful, and I think the three-quarters cupful of sugar makes them lighter than a full cup. I put mine in cold water, and when about half cold put them into a tin pan and cover tightly, which causes them to steam a little and keep moist longer. —Janice in Boston Globe.

A Real Treat Ahead.

We wonder whether our citizens realize fully the importance of the rural school and rural conference which will meet at the Western State Normal, Bowling Green, February 19. This promises to be one of the most important conferences having to do with the rural life ever held in Kentucky. The conference is held in the interest of better government, better roads, better agriculture better schools, better churches and better homes.

The array of talent that is announced will take part in the program is sufficient to assure the success of the conference.

Dr. Cherry, President of the Western State Normal has been engaged in building this program for several months past. He never does things by halves and from the announcements so far given out, a great treat is in store for all who attend.

Dr. Cherry will far surpass any of his previous efforts along this line. The railroads have made a reduction in rates for the conference and this added to the program offered will attract hundreds of people from out of the state.

Notice to the Public.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE.

For a change from the ordinary bread the following will be enjoyed:

Southern Grist
Bread.—Mix one cupful of cornmeal with one cupful of cold, well-cooked hominy. In to this stir one well-beaten egg, one tablespoonful of lard, a little salt, one cupful of milk, and add lastly one pint of uncooked hominy. Spread this in a well-greased baking pan and bake half an hour. Cut into squares and serve hot with butter.

Apple Sauce Cake.—Take one cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of butter, one cupful of thick unsweetened apple sauce, one cupful of raisins, one and a half cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of cloves, a teaspoonful of soda and a quarter of a teaspoonful of nutmeg. Mix and bake slowly in a slow oven 45 minutes.

Sponge Bananas.—Cover the bottom of a baking dish with small sponge cakes, cover with a layer of bananas, sprinkle sugar and the juice of an orange, add chopped nuts or grated coconut and bake 15 minutes. Serve with a custard or thick cream.

Grapefruit Pie.—Mix three tablespoonfuls of cornstarch with a cupful of sugar, add a teaspoonful of butter, the yolks of two eggs, rind and juice of half a lemon and half an orange, the juice of one-half a small grapefruit and one cupful of hot water. Cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly until thick. Cook ten minutes longer to be sure to cook the cornstarch well. Put into a baked crust, make a meringue of the whites of two eggs and two tablespoonfuls of sugar, put on the pie and brown in a slow oven.

Halibut Salad.—Place flaked halibut freed from skin and bones, on a bed of lettuce. Boil the yolk of a hard-cooked egg and three sardines to a smooth paste. Remove the skin and bones of the sardines. Mix this paste with the boiled or mayonnaise dressing and pour over the fish. Garnish with slices of lemon.

Pumpkin pie served with a garnish of whipped cream and over that grated cheese of pronounced flavor is a most dainty way of serving the always appreciated pie.

WORKMAN in an IHC wagon factory was explaining the various stages of wagon construction to an interested visitor. He picked up two pieces of long leaf yellow pine, and asked the visitor to notice the difference in the weight of the two pieces. The lighter piece, he explained, was kiln-dried. The heavier piece was air-dried. It had retained the resinous sap which adds strength and toughness, while in the kiln-dried piece of lumber this sap had been drawn out by the too rapid application of heat.

Every Stick of Lumber Used in IHC Wagons Is Carefully Selected, Air-Dried Stock

Here was something to think about. The visitor asked for a test as to the relative strength of the two pieces of wood. The air-dried piece held up under nearly double the weight under which the kiln-dried piece of lumber broke.

To the eye there was no difference between these two pieces of lumber, but when put to the test there was a vast difference. So it is throughout the construction of IHC wagons.

Next trachoma clinic Monday, Feb. 5.

Trees are beginning to thicken up in the branches.

This begins the short month with a lot of big days.

The court house should be packed Saturday afternoon.

Good morning! Have you become a candidate yet?

Mr. Groundhog will tell you tomorrow how the weather is the next six weeks.

Mr. Sidney Fred was in Cincinnati several days during the week on business.

Mr. W. D. Blackwell was in Louisville on business the first of the week.

That was a fine crowd here to court Monday, and business in all lines was good.

Victor talking machines have not been increased in price, though the factory cost has been increased about 16 per cent, in the past two years.

Every progressive man in the county should be here Saturday to the good road mass meeting. It is the most important matter before the county.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meyerhoefer have moved from their farm, and are at home on Hopkinsville street. Their many friends here are delighted to have them again as neighbors.

The Gorman-Ford Co. is playing the Queen theatre this week, and doing capacity business. A new production is given each night, and the work of the company is pleasing our people.

Mrs. J. A. Rose returned yesterday from Hartford, where she has been some weeks at the bedside of Mr. James P. Stevens. She was accompanied by Mrs. Stevens, who will be here for some time.

Be here for the good road rally Saturday.

Winter may be over, but we will not know until tomorrow.

Orien L. Roark made a professional visit to Hartford last Friday.

These spring days have caused some folks to think of gardening.

Get in the good road movement Saturday as you never have before.

We'll know tomorrow how the weather of the next six weeks will be.

Weather Forecast for Week.

Forecast for the week beginning Sunday January 28, 1917. For Ohio valley and Tennessee: Rains probably Sunday and Monday, followed by much colder and generally fair Tuesday and Wednesday. Upsettled and warmer with snow Thursday and Friday.

Dies In Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Milton Clark died the 22nd, ult. in Oklahoma City, after a short illness from pneumonia. Mr. Clark and family moved from here to that city a few months ago. The many friends they have here were shocked over the sad event.

Fire Does Small Damage.

Fire about noon at the home of Mr. G. E. Countzler did small damage to a small outbuilding last Friday. Some trash was being burned in the yard, and the wind carried the flames to a small storehouse, burning one side considerably. Neighbors extinguished the blaze before much loss occurred.

Seeks County Clerkship.

A young man, already well and favorably known in Muhlenberg, has placed himself in the field for County Court Clerk, subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary. Mr. P. M. Vincent, of Bremen, has his announcement in this issue, and will make an active field campaign among the voters. He has for some years been engaged in teaching school, and holds high rank in that honorable body of active workers. He is a farmer, a member of a leading family, and while there are a hundred Republican voters of the name in the county, he is the first to ever ask a favor at the hands of the party. The people of the county could not have a better official than he would make, for he is qualified in every way.

The supremacy of the Victrola is universally recognized. Machines and records have maintained a high point never reached by others. Look and listen, for Roark is always glad to demonstrate.

Good Roads Mass Meeting Saturday.

Judge J. J. Rice has called a special meeting of the fiscal court at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, to discuss good road matters. Similar action has been taken by a great number of county judges throughout the State, and particularly in Western Kentucky, where roads are poorest, and people are awaking to the greatest losses we are sustaining thereby. State and National funds are available in larger sums than before and many countries are preparing to qualify for an allotment. At 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon there will be a mass meeting of the citizens of the county at the court house, and it is anticipated there will be a vast audience, people from all sections of the county having expressed a determination to be here. It is a very important matter and one that needs the attention of all our people. Let every one be present, and take part in the meeting.

Roark has all sorts of talking machine supplies.

Central City Man For Clerk.

Mr. C. T. Noffsinger, of Central City, announces his candidacy in this paper this week. He seeks the favor of the Republican party at its primary, for nomination for county clerk, and if he wins that, will make equally as strong a candidate at the general election. He is a member of one of the pioneer families of Muhlenberg, all of them honorable, industrious people, who have done vast things in the county's uplift and development. Mr. Noffsinger has all the needed qualifications, will make a clean effort for the nomination, and do everything possible to elect the Clerk no matter who is nominated.

Every live, wide-awake Muhlenberger should be in town Saturday afternoon.

Roark has talking machine records from 10c. to $7 in stock.

Business Going Abroad.

Last Monday there were sixty-nine money orders issued by the postmaster here, totaling more than $500 sent to mail order houses in large cities. This was an exceptionally large sum, even for county court day but is astonishingly large and should cause both sender and loser to think. Local merchants of course lost these sales, and the whole community has forever lost the benefits of the money put in circulation elsewhere. The vitality of the county is sapped every time money is sent away, and everyone, including, of course, the sender, is hurt thereby. There should be an awakening to the evil of this practice, and county people should be come cemented by a bond of loyalty and service which would keep Muhlenberg money in the county, so far as it is possible to do so. People living together are dependent upon each other, in every way, which includes all financial relations. Nothing should be purchased outside which can be secured here, and almost everything can be bought here, our commercial agents being able to secure and supply the wants of all our people. Let's "get together." It will do all of us good.

Train Kills Young Man Sunday.

Everett Wright, 22 years old, of White Plains, was killed by a train near McNary last Sunday morning. Wright was walking the trestle when struck, and was knocked about fifty feet from the track where he was found dead. At the coroner's inquest it developed that no member of any train crew knew that an accident had occurred, as Wright had not been seen by any of the railroaders examined. It is said that this is the fourth time that Wright had been struck by a train. It is reported that he was drinking.

Local Mention.

Let Roark Victrolize your home.

Next trachoma clinic Monday, Feb. 5.

Trees are beginning to thicken up in the branches.

This begins the short month with a lot of big days.

The court house should be packed Saturday afternoon.

Good morning! Have you become a candidate yet?

Mr. Groundhog will tell you tomorrow how the weather is the next six weeks.

Mr. Sidney Fred was in Cincinnati several days during the week on business.

Mr. W. D. Blackwell was in Louisville on business the first of the week.

That was a fine crowd here to court Monday, and business in all lines was good.

Victor talking machines have not been increased in price, though the factory cost has been increased about 16 per cent, in the past two years.

Every progressive man in the county should be here Saturday to the good road mass meeting. It is the most important matter before the county.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meyerhoefer have moved in from their farm, and are at home on Hopkinsville street. Their many friends here are delighted to have them again as neighbors.

The Gorman-Ford Co. is playing the Queen theatre this week, and doing capacity business. A new production is given each night, and the work of the company is pleasing our people.

Mrs. J. A. Rose returned yesterday from Hartford, where she has been some weeks at the bedside of Mr. James P. Stevens. She was accompanied by Mrs. Stevens, who will be here for some time.

Be here for the good road rally Saturday.

Winter may be over, but we will not know until tomorrow.

Orien L. Roark made a professional visit to Hartford last Friday.

These spring days have caused some folks to think of gardening.

Get in the good road movement Saturday as you never have before.

We'll know tomorrow how the weather of the next six weeks will be.

Weather Forecast for Week.

Forecast for the week beginning Sunday January 28, 1917. For Ohio valley and Tennessee: Rains probably Sunday and Monday, followed by much colder and generally fair Tuesday and Wednesday. Upsettled and warmer with snow Thursday and Friday.

Dies In Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Milton Clark died the 22nd, ult. in Oklahoma City, after a short illness from pneumonia. Mr. Clark and family moved from here to that city a few months ago. The many friends they have here were shocked over the sad event.

Fire Does Small Damage.

Fire about noon at the home of Mr. G. E. Countzler did small damage to a small outbuilding last Friday. Some trash was being burned in the yard, and the wind carried the flames to a small storehouse, burning one side considerably. Neighbors extinguished the blaze before much loss occurred.

Seeks County Clerkship.

A young man, already well and favorably known in Muhlenberg, has placed himself in the field for County Court Clerk, subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary. Mr. P. M. Vincent, of Bremen, has his announcement in this issue, and will make an active field campaign among the voters. He has for some years been engaged in teaching school, and holds high rank in that honorable body of active workers. He is a farmer, a member of a leading family, and while there are a hundred Republican voters of the name in the county, he is the first to ever ask a favor at the hands of the party. The people of the county could not have a better official than he would make, for he is qualified in every way.

The supremacy of the Victrola is universally recognized. Machines and records have maintained a high point never reached by others. Look and listen, for Roark is always glad to demonstrate.

Good Roads Mass Meeting Saturday.

Judge J. J. Rice has called a special meeting of the fiscal court at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, to discuss good road matters. Similar action has been taken by a great number of county judges throughout the State, and particularly in Western Kentucky, where roads are poorest, and people are awaking to the greatest losses we are sustaining thereby. State and National funds are available in larger sums than before and many countries are preparing to qualify for an allotment. At 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon there will be a mass meeting of the citizens of the county at the court house, and it is anticipated there will be a vast audience, people from all sections of the county having expressed a determination to be here. It is a very important matter and one that needs the attention of all our people. Let every one be present, and take part in the meeting.

Roark has all sorts of talking machine supplies.

Central City Man For Clerk.

Mr. C. T. Noffsinger, of Central City, announces his candidacy in this paper this week. He seeks the favor of the Republican party at its primary, for nomination for county clerk, and if he wins that, will make equally as strong a candidate at the general election. He is a member of one of the pioneer families of Muhlenberg, all of them honorable, industrious people, who have done vast things in the county's uplift and development. Mr. Noffsinger has all the needed qualifications, will make a clean effort for the nomination, and do everything possible to elect the Clerk no matter who is nominated.

Every live, wide-awake Muhlenberger should be in town Saturday afternoon.

Roark has talking machine records from 10c. to $7 in stock.

Business Going Abroad.

Last Monday there were sixty-nine money orders issued by the postmaster here, totaling more than $500 sent to mail order houses in large cities. This was an exceptionally large sum, even for county court day but is astonishingly large and should cause both sender and loser to think. Local merchants of course lost these sales, and the whole community has forever lost the benefit of the money put in circulation elsewhere. The vitality of the county is sapped every time money is sent away, and everyone, including, of course, the sender, is hurt thereby. There should be an awakening to the evil of this practice, and county people should be cemented by a bond of loyalty and service which would keep Muhlenberg money in the county, so far as it is possible to do so. People living together are dependent upon each other, in every way, which includes all financial relations. Nothing should be purchased outside which can be secured here, and almost everything can be bought here, our commercial agents being able to secure and supply the wants of all our people. Let's "get together." It will do all of us good.

Train Kills Young Man Sunday.

Everett Wright, 22 years old, of White Plains, was killed by a train near McNary last Sunday morning. Wright was walking the trestle when struck, and was knocked about fifty feet from the track where he was found dead. At the coroner's inquest it developed that no member of any train crew knew that an accident had occurred, as Wright had not been seen by any of the railroaders examined. It is said that this is the fourth time that Wright had been struck by a train. It is reported that he was drinking.

He was one of the pioneer citizens of the county, and his wide circle of friends held him in highest esteem. Surviving are his wife and three daughters: Mrs. T. H. Black, Hartford; Mrs. H. P. Taylor, Beaver Dam; Mrs. V. Harrel, Rockport.

HORSES PIGS and CATTLE

GET BEEF FROM DAIRY STOCK

Discrimination in Color in Purchasing Meat Animals—Case of Red- and White Holstein.

Of course all cattle can be divided into two great classes—those of the dairy type and those of the beef type. In some cases members of the beef type have large milking capacities. These we call general or dual-purpose animals.

But all cattle may be used for beef. In fact, it is said that some of the strictly dairy types furnish a splendid quality of meat. The reason why dairy cattle are discriminated against for beef purposes is that the percentage of offal as compared to that of meat is so great that they are unprofitable as beef animals.

In the West recently a lot of steers were sold, some of them Shorthorn and others Holsteins. The Shorthorn steers sold for a little higher price than the Holsteins, with the exception of one. Now and then a purebred Holstein is born that is red and white, and in this lot there was one such steer. This animal sold for as much as the Shorthorns. This indicates that there is a discrimination in color in purchasing beef animals. If all the Holsteins had been red and white, they would have sold undoubtedly for as much in the market as the Shorthorns.

GIVE SHEEP SOME ATTENTION

Lambs Must Be Well Cared for in Order to Make Best Growth Before Marketing in Fall.

Many sheep owners have a tendency to let the sheep take care of themselves after shearing time has passed, and there are so many other duties demanding attention.

Where there are young lambs they should be well cared for in order to make the best growth possible before marketing in the fall. They are hard to get in shape to sell when they have been forced to look out for themselves.

PUT FEED CUTTER TOGETHER

the latter 8 inches above the frame. The knife lever is bolted on left hand leg to allow using the right for cutting and to be used on the right also.

The knife may be made of a piece of crosscut saw or scythe blade. The blade is 14 inches long. With it forage may be cut out any length.—Southern Agriculturist.

GOOD STOCK IS ON INCREASE

Farmers Begin to Realize Value of Purebred Stallion—Grade Animals Are Decreasing.

That the farmers are realizing the value of the purebred stallion is shown by the fact that the number of such horses registered has increased more than 50 per cent since 1910 and that the number of grade stallions registered has decreased more than 14 per cent in the same time.

Squab for the Invalid.

A squab cooked according to these directions won't harm the sick stomach. Clean the squab, split it open, lay on a thickly buttered pan and sprinkle over with salt and pepper. Cover with another buttered pan and steam until tender. Serve plain or with hot brown sauce.

To Improve Mustard.

Add a little drop of salad oil to mustard when it is being made. Not only will it improve the taste, but it will keep it fresh for days.

Horticultural Advice

SETTING TREES IN ORCHARD

Cover Roots With Dark-Colored Soil and Stamp It Down Tightly—Conserve Moisture.

In setting trees for an orchard dig holes about two feet wide and one and one-half feet deep. Place the sod by itself, the darker colored soil in another pile, and the bottom in another. Cover the roots of the tree with the darker colored soil and stamp it down as tight as possible. When the soil is all in, invert the sod over the dirt, and dig some more outside loam for a top covering. This acts as a mulch to conserve the vegetable matter. The roots will be deep and get a good start. Cut back the roots before planting so as to leave them 10 or 12 inches long, no longer. The new roots start out from the place cut.

Put some kind of vegetable matter, manure, if possible, on the top of the ground, or straw or grass of some kind, to hold the moisture until the trees get a start. After that mow the grass in the orchard every year and put it around the trees, keeping about one foot from the tree the first year, and a foot farther off each succeeding year for five or six years. The amount of vegetable matter needed depends upon the soil conditions. A poor piece of ground, of course, will need more mulch, a strong soil well filled with humus less. The idea is to build up the soil to make reservoir conditions, and that is done by filling it with humus. It does not require very much vegetable matter after once in good conditions.

HARM BY GRAPE LEAFHOPPER

Insect Injures Foliage by Sucking Out Juices of Leaves—Poorer Quality of Fruit Results.

(By D. E. MERRILL, New Mexico Agricultural Experiment Station.)

The grape leafhopper is a sucking insect and does damage both as adult and as nymph, or young, to the foliage of the grape by sucking out the juices of the leaves through the slender sucking beak. Wherever a puncture is made, the tissue of the leaf at that spot first whitens, then turns yellow, withers, and finally turns brown as the leaf dies. The punctures are nearly all made on the underside of the leaves and the injury shows at once by the discoloration of the upper side.

A damaged leaf shows the irregular yellowing, but may still hang on to the vine. If badly damaged it loses its ability to work, turns brown and falls. In severe infestations vines may be nearly or completely defoliated and in case of weaker vines death may result to the infested plants. Of course, this lessening of the leaf surface reduces the vigor of the plant, stunts the growth of the canes, diminishes the crop in amount and makes for a poorer quality of fruit.

LOW OR HIGH HEADED TREES

Successful Apple Growers Favor First Branches About Three or Four Feet From Ground.

The tendency among successful apple growers at the present time is toward the medium or low-headed tree with the first branches about three feet from the ground. Such trees have many advantages: with modern implements of cultivation can be worked at much less expense than formerly.

In localities where deep snow is the rule, rather than the exception, the tree with a higher head will undoubtedly prove better adapted than one headed at less than four feet.

TRIM OFF USELESS SUCKERS

Too Much of Strength of Plant Taken Up by Worthless Sprouts—Break Them Off Close.

Too many suckers allowed to grow from the roots of the raspberry hills will take too much of the strength from the plants that are to make next year's crop.

Allow one or two more canes to grow than will be needed, for fear of accident to some of them. Then break off all remaining sprouts that start close to the ground.

Potted Ox Tongue.

One pound of gold cooked ox tongue, six tablespoonfuls of butter or fat from tongue, ground onion, made mustard, one teaspoonful of mustard catsup, red pepper.

Crop tongue fine and put it in a basin with the butter or the fat from the tongue, if any is left; season to taste. Rub the mixture, after it has been well pounded, through a fine sieve. Press into small pots, cover with clarified butter or lard; keep in a cool place.

RID HOME OF PEST

PRACTICAL INFORMATION ON ERADICATION OF BEDBUGS.

Simple Preparations, Applied With Diligence, Will Do the Work, According to Bulletin of the Bureau of Entomology.

Those who are troubled by bedbugs will find practical information as to how to deal effectively with these pests in Bureau Bulletin 754, "Bedbugs," recently published by the department. In this bulletin C. L. Marshall of the bureau of entomology makes clear the habits of these insects which have a bearing on their eradication, and suggests a number of simple household measures, as well as more radical methods, of getting rid of them. The author calls attention especially to the fact that these insects will migrate from an unoccupied to an inhabited house and points out that the fact that they ordinarily hide in the daytime makes it necessary to apply the insecticides in cracks in walls and floor and crevices under wall paper, where the insects ordinarily are concealed and lay their eggs. Information as to the ability of bedbugs to withstand cold and to go without food for long periods should be especially useful to those intending to move into houses long unoccupied.

Of the simpler remedies the entomologist says that benzine, kerosene, or other lighter petroleum oils introduced into crevices by means of a brush or syringe are perhaps the most efficient. The bulletin also gives directions for fumigation with sulphur or other chemicals, which will be found economical and effective in cases of general infestation.

Those who have been bitten will find applications of peroxide of hydrogen useful in allaying irritation. Tincture of iodine, in its ordinary or double strength, is also a good counter-irritant for use in cases of fleas, mosquitoes, bedbugs, or other insect bites. Iodine, however, should be used with caution on the tender skin of small children and on those who are affected with or disposed to eczematous disorders.

The bulletin will be supplied free by the department as long as the supply lasts.

Custard Recipes.

Steamed or baked custard: One quart milk, one-eighth teaspoonful nutmeg, two eggs, one-fourth cupful sugar, one-eighth teaspoonful salt.

Mix eggs as for soft custard. Strain into custard cups and steam until firm over hot water which is boiling gently.

Another way to cook this custard is as follows: Strain into custard cups and place in a pan of warm water. Bake in a moderate oven until the custard is firm. To test a steamed or baked custard, slip a knife blade to the bottom of the cup in the center of the custard and draw it without turning. If the knife is not coated with a milky substance the custard is firm all the way through and has cooked enough. Grate the nutmeg over the surface of the custard and cool before serving.

Italian Dish.

To make risotto, put a handful of salt into a saucepan full of water. Put the saucepan on the fire and when the water is hot, but not boiling, throw in the rice. By throwing the rice into hot butter in a pan before adding water to cook it, each grain of rice remains intact. Let it boil about twenty minutes. Strain the rice, pouring the contents of the saucepan into a strainer. Put a sufficient quantity of butter into a frying pan, when the butter is melted add the rice and mix well together for two or three minutes. Pour the rice into a dish and cover with grated Parmesan cheese.

Cheese Potatoes in Jackets.

Six large potatoes, two egg whites well beaten, one teaspoonful butter, one and one-half teaspoonfuls salt, one-eighth teaspoonful pepper, cheese, one-third cupful rich milk or cream; rub potatoes over with melted butter, then bake till thoroughly done. Cut in halves lengthwise, scoop out potato and mash till all the lumps are out. Beat in the butter, milk and seasoning, and, when fluffy, add the egg whites. Then refill the potato shells, smooth, and place on top of each a thin slice of American cheese. Return to oven to brown for about ten minutes, and serve at once.—Good Housekeeping.

Butter Honey Cake.

Rub together one and a half cupfuls of honey and one-half cupful butter; add the unbeaten yolks of three eggs and beat thoroughly. Add five cupfuls flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls of ground cinnamon and one-half teaspoonful salt; one and a half teaspoonfuls soda dissolved in one tablespoonful orange-flower water. Beat the mixture thoroughly and add the well-beaten whites of three eggs. Bake in shallow tins and cover with frosting.

Gypsy Plum Brown Bread.

One cupful granulated cornmeal, one cupful Graham, one cupful flour, one cupful rye meal, half cupful molasses, one cupful or little more of sour milk, one and a half teaspoonfuls saleratus, one-half teaspoonful salt, one cupful of 40-50 prunes, pitted and cut in halves; boil three hours.

On Toast.

If you wish to place out a dish of vegetables, serve it on toast. Any vegetable except potatoes will be improved if served on buttered toast.

Shape for Country Roads.

Country roads should be kept in such condition that they will shed every drop of water that falls on them.

Reasonable Proposition.

A good road between every farm and market is a reasonable and worthwhile proposition.

Muddy Roads Cut Profits.

Muddy roads always add to the distance to market and cut the profits on produce.

GREENVILLE, KENTUCKY

A History of Muhlenberg County

BY OTTO A. ROTHERT

THIS book tells of the wilderness conquered, and of the adventures of the men and women who founded and developed the county up to and since the beginning of the railroad era, and made possible the achievements of to-day. It is the story of the county from the standpoint of its personal and public traditions, which have been arranged in related groups and form an almost continuous narrative.

It was published in 1913. Competent judges have pronounced it the best county history ever published in the United States. The Courier-Journal says, "The book is worthy of study, not only for the pictures it gives of early times and early society, but for the wealth of its curious and valuable illustrations and its expositions of the industrial and social progress of the county and its towns." The Western Recorder says, "It is more interesting than a good novel; it will interest old and young alike." The Greenview Record says, "Every Muhlenberger and former citizen of the county will value the book far above the price at which it is offered." The American Historical Review says, "The book not only contains much that is of interest to the student of Kentucky history but is written in a pleasing style."

It is a labor of love offered at cost of production, the author's time and work being contributed. The book contains 500 pages, 240 excellent illustrations, and a complete index. It is printed on a superior quality of paper and is handsomely bound in dark red cloth.
